LORENZO DOW.

We will relate an anuclote we once heard of that shrewd and cecentric preacher, Lorenzo How, merely to show the effects of a guilty conscience. A farmer came to Lorenzo one morning as it e was preparing to preach before a large country audicine, and said:—

"Mr. Dow, I am told you" know a sinner by his looks and can tell a thief from his countenance—Now, Sir, I have had an excellent axe stolen from me, and I shall he forever grateful if you will point out to me the rascal who took it, as in all probability will be a stolength to do; induiting from he will be at meeting to-day, judging from the crowds that are coming.

Lorenzo was not the man to deny the possession of wonderful faculty that the people chose to ascribe to him; so he told people chose to ascribe to him; so he told the farmer he would get his axe.

Lorenzo mounted the pulpit, took out of his pocket a stone as big as his fist, laid it beside the hible, and commenced the exercises of the day. His sermon was the subject of all sins mentioned in the decalogue, and he went on to give proofs from history of this retirbutive justice of Providence, in qualishing in this life transgressors. "Aurder will out," said he; 'guilt cannot conceal itself; and I am about to give you, this beautiful morning, my dear hearers, an example of a terribue vengeance to follow the breaking of the eighth commandment. Two nights ago a fellow stole John Smith's axe; and I have been commissioned by an aunights ago a fellow stole John Smith's axe; and I have been commissioned by an authority which none of you will question, to knock down, drag out, sacrifice, destroy and utterly annihilate the miscrable wretch, and send him body, soul and hreeches, to the pitchy realms of an awful eternity! Poor sinner, you turn pale before the rock has crushed you! continued Lorenzo; he grasp-old with the striking of crushed you! continued Lorenzo; he grasped the stone, and reised it in the attitued of throwing. Don't dodge, you rascai! You can't escape me, don't dodge.'

He paused a moment, and pointing his long, crooked, significant finger at a poor fellow in the audience, who appeared to be in an ague fit with his hair standing on end like the quills of a fretful porcupine, John Smith,' cred he, 'there's the man that stole your axe!' our axe!'

your axe:
The eyes of the whole congregation were turned upon the conscience-stricken fellow who looked as if he wished the mountains woold tumble on him.

'You will return to Mr. Smith his axe, and teal no more, if I forgive you-won't you? asked Lorenzo. 'If I don't dorn me !' exclaimed the cultrit with a look and tone that showed the cin-cerity of his declaration.

John Smith got his axe. Compost for Fault Trees.—Fruit trees must be fed, if you would have them thrive and bear. Dressing, leaves or the scrapings from the forest, form one of the best ingre-dients for compost designed far any kind of feuit trees. Mr. Downing, a distinguished ruit culturist and the editor of the Horticulturist, gives it as his opinion that the best compost adapted for general use with that trees, is that compost of swamp nuck, or the black decayed vegetable matter to be obtained from low grounds, mixed with wood ashes at the rate of five bushels of wood asses in the rate of the hashes of fresh ushes to twice the quantity of leached ashes to a wagon load. This furnishes not only the requisite vegetable matter, but also those mineral manures essential to the production of fine fruit. IMPORTED WINES, GROCERIES&c. I. & W. GEERY,

Nominations. EASTERN DISTRICT,

N. B. DURFEE. The Second Concert of the Musical Institute.

It is of rare occurrence that a consideral audience will attend the repetition of a concert, and we thought Mr. Tourjee had made a mistake in announcing a repetition of his first concert within a week. But the sequel showed that he knew his audience, and the house was again well filled on the evening of the 13th. The opening chorus "Gloria," gave evidence that the intervening time had been well improved-it was decidedly better than before, and it seems creditable that mere amateurs who have so recently organized into a society could have rendered so difficult a chorus with such surprising power, and in such perfect time. "A hundred years to come" was well sung-Mrs. Brownell has a sweet contralto voice, Miss Coggeshall an excellent voice of the same quality. Mayor Swinburn has a sweet tenor, and Mr. Coggeshall a very fine baritone of really remarkable power. With such a east, the "quartette" could not fail to impress the audience favorably. Mr. Tilley did himself full justice in "We are growing o'd," his voice is a fine full tenor, of great power, and he uses it with expression and indgement. Mrs. Touriee sang in several quartettes and duetts; her voice is mezzosoprano, and very much to our taste. It is evidently cultivated, and is used with much grace, and feeling. Miss Irwin has an excellent contralto, and Miss Stanbope a pure soprano, of rare quality, and succeptible of very high cultivation, her tones were extremely clear, and powerful. The Messrs. Landers have very sweet voices. These four voices harmonized finely in the quartette " come where my love lies dreaming."

Dona Nobis, is a grand Chorus, and was grandly rendered; in fact all the chorusses were well sung: but the "Tyorl Melody" was evidently the favorite; Tourjee's song "I; knew,a Maid,"was greeted with rapturous applause, and he was obliged to repeat it, in obedience to rather a noisy demand from the audience. The double quartette, "Lutzows wild hunt," was capitally sung with fine effect by Messrs. Tilley, Swinburne, Peckham, Coggeshall, Kaull, French and Stanley, every voice was a good one, and the offect was exceedingly fine.

The "Minute gun at sea" was effectually sung by Messrs. Tilley and Swinburne, and the report of the gun, the Short deep boom without reverberation which is neculiar to a or fired at sea, could not easily have been better imitated. "Speed away" was a delightful quarette. But the great event of the evening was "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean." There was a very large American ensign skillully concealed on the cornice, above, and when the grand Chorus "Three cheers for the Red. White, and Blue, had reached its fullest power, and the audience was excited to its highest pitch of patriotic enthusiasm the flag suddenly, as if brought into existence by magic power, unfolded and covered the wall. The effect was electric the audience seemed beside themselves with excitement and the applause was tremend ous; many sprung to their feet and clapped and cheered, with most tremendous energy Never did we see an audience so completely carried away with enthusiasm, and though the quartette, and chorus after it were admirably sung, yet the audience were not in a condition to appreciate anything else, and we doubt not that, when an hou after they were sleeping at home, they dreamed of mingled choruses, and cheers and "falling stars," Thus ended the secand grand concert of the "Musical Institute. Whatever doubts existed of their permoment success before, were dissip ted forever; and we may congratulate ourselve that a "Music Hall" has become only : question of time. With such a society, and such audiences it is certain that it canno TENOR. long be deferred.

The poem read by Mr. Shillaber last Thursday evening in the Aquidneck Hall was a production of real merit, and gave entire satisfaction to all who went to listen, with "ears to hear," what the unerring "News" of Monday informed the public was coming, viz. a poem after the fashion of Thomas Hood; a panorama of actual life; a picture of the "Street" done by a poet with a tender heart and high aim .-Those who expected the lower side of Partingtonian wit were disappointed. We say the lower side of Partingtonian wit because as we understand the matter the great part of those who have heard of Mr. Shillaber as the author of the Partington sayings have a funcy that these sayings are chiefly low wit, fit to make a horse laugh, that is horse on two legs. And therefore expected his poem would be of the same sort. While the truth is Mrs. Partington and Ike are not groundlings; they were not "brought up" in the bar-room, nor have they spent their time hanging about shop sanctums or at the corner of the street to hatch scanda and peddle gossip for brains as idle as, in that ca e, their own would be. Had this or anything of the sort been the character of Mrs. P. she would certainly not have had an opportunity of showing herself in Aquidneck Hall during the present course of lectures.

Even had Mr. Shillaber been of the Park Benjamin or Saxe "school" of rhymerswhose wit is without wisdom and whose humor is without tenderness-though elever in a few minor particulars-he would not have been invited to Newport this "season" to insult humanity by indiscriminate criticism and satirise society in huge generalizations of contempt with the feeblest appreciation of individual & social virtues and needs.

In creating the Characters of Mrs. Partington and Isaac, Mr. Shillaber has done a work if in an unusual way, yet in perfect keeping with our American Literature, which is deserving the recognition of every expounder of the best books we have yet had in this country.

Mrs. P. is the old regime in ethics while Ike is young America. And in this contest of the old and the new, many indications of real genius are found. Much profound philosophy is enunciated, a stirring and tender humanity and a quick sense of duty are apponent. In a word the Partington sayings form a philosophy of social life a great deal more prefound than Bentham's and a great deal wiser than Malthus.

Of course in doing a poem of the real Partingtonian sort.Mr. Shillaber would dron the accidentals, the machinery of his characters. And all who fancy, as a great many always do, that the accide ntal is the esser tial, will not find the old lady in the "street's But there she is nevertheless with Tke by the hand, and our varied life in its ocean froth and roar-in its foolishness and its energy-in its strifes, the prophets of harmoneous power yet to be, passing before her eye, but often speaking in a voice a little above her own.

In a worh the "Street" is a good poem for a lecture. We liked its delicate puns; Its fair views of society, its hearty convictions, its moral tone, its original humor, its deep humanity, its pictures nicely drawn and without ostentation, filled with beauty-And better still, we liked more than all, the man with a good heart and a healthy imagination from whom the words came.

Indeed to our mind the thing has such intrinsic worth as to need no gesture of of the hands to make its excellence more nunarent; and if we venture to suggest any defect in the performance on Thursday night it would be to say that Mr. Shillaber does not himself think well enough of his poemwhich distrust makes him a little uneasy in its delivery. If Mr. Shillaber were a charlatan his elocution in popular estimation would be improved. While If he had a little more proper self reliance, and would read his poem as though he had no audience before him we think the delivery and thou't would more exactly correspond.

The truth is, any one who has anything fit to be spoken must act entirely on the supposition that it is fit to heard. but a clown can find cars and speech too. Wisdom is just fied of her children.

THE ARCTIC MEDAL .- The gold medal presented by the British Governmen to the officers and men of the Arctic Expedi-tion is about the size of a double cagle, and a beautiful specimen of coinage. On one side is a head of the Queen, with her title in Latin. On the reverse is the inscription : "The British Government to the Officers and Men of the American Arctic Expedition," encircled by an elaborate oak wreath, surmounted by the words: "As a token of gratitude for their generous services."

AWEUL RAILEOAD ACCIDENT.—We learn the following particulars of the Railroad ac-cident at Hamilton, Canada West, from a gentleman who left the scene of disaster this morning. The accident occurred on the Great Western Railway at the bridge, over the Des Jardines canal, which is elevated some sixty feet above water. The bridge swings, and it is supposed that the train which passed for the east a short time heter, had sunk the bridge so much that the locomotive of this train was obstructed by the abutment to such a degree that the passenger curs were raised up, and thrown into the canal The train was the local accommodation from Toronto to Hamilton, and left Toronto at 4 o'clock yesterday after noon. The number of passengers were esti-mated at from 75 to 100, of whom only 15 were taken alive from the wreck, and of these five have since died. The water in the canal is eighteen feet deep, and nearly all these not immediately killed were drowned. The engine and tender, with the engineer and fireman, were pitched head-long into the canal and buried twenty feet long into the canal and buried thenty feet below the surface. The buggage car and two passenger cars are completely shatter-ed and one of the latter turned bottom side up and nearly submerged. When our in-formant arrived thit morning the parties were still busy in extracting the bodies from the wreek. In an authouse adjoining the station house at Hamilton, about fifty or skytty capages of men, women and children station house at Hamilton, about fifty or sixity corpses of men, women and children were laid on one floor. No inapiry into the cause of the accident had yet been heid.— Most of the passengers were from Hamilton, Toronto and the adjoining towns. Samuel Zimmerman' from Niagara Falls, Isane Bu-chanan of Hamilton, Vice President of the read and Caut Swoley. To popular conroad, and Capt. Swohey, a popular com-mander on Lake Outaria, are among the victims. Only one of the lady passengers was saved, and she was considerably cut and was saved, and she was considerably cut and bruised. A German lad, in the hinder car, seeing the conductor hastily re reating to, the back door, took alarm and fallowed him and he and the conductor and two others were the only oees who escaped with triff-fug injury. Mr. C. J. Brydges, the manag-ing director of the Great Westera Railway ing director of the Great Western Railway and Dr. Mocklan and Mr. Thomas C. Sweet of Chippewa, were on the train, and although considerably injured, escaped with their lives. The following is a last of the bodies recognized up to this morning; Donald Stuart, Rev. A. Booker, the father of Mayor Hooker, Erastus W. Green and a little girl, the daughter of J. K. Clarke, al of Toronto; Junes Gammon and Thomas Ittle girl, the daughter of J. R. Clarke, at of Toronto; Junes Gammon and Thomas Benson of Port Hope, John Sharp, book-binder, A. Grant, Mr. Russell, of the firm of Mellest, Merrill & Russell, of Brantford, Joseph Barr of Niagara; and John C. Henderson of Hamilton. In one of the company's buildings lay the modies of ten men, two women and one child, and of tnesc but three were recognized, Edward Duffleld, Rev. Dr. Kessie and John Morley The remains of Mr. Zimmerman will be taken to his residence at Niagara Falls this

This sciences of themistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. I manuscrabbe proofs are shown that these Putts have virtues which surpass in excellence file ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all nues. They are safe, and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their pears training properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel discuss. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate stuggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they care the every-lay complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have bailed the test of human skill. While they produce powerful also formidable and dangerous diseases that have halls the best of human skill. While they produce powerfor effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, th ancets, they are in estime more in minimization obest, one anticet and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any rick of harm. Curea have been made which surpass belief were they not substantianed by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. The advantage proposed by this ventilator over all others is, it gives a uniform draft to a chimney, and at the same time excludes water thus doing away with two great evils—a back draft and drippings down the chimney. The arrangement of the ventilator is very simple; at can be easily adjusted to any use for which it may be required, and it is not liable to get out of order.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE AGE.

A REMEDY which GURES IN FIVE A MINUTES.—M. LEHOUX'S French Cholera Cognae Bitters. This truly wonderful scientific compound is recommended by the must eminent and learned physicians of all Europe and America, and enjoys the best reputation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best most efficient and generally acknowledged remedy, against cholera, dysentery, diarrhora, and complaints of the stumach in general. The numerous patients who have tried it according to directions have invariably found relief in a very short time, and the best proof of it is, that since this standard remedy was introduced in the armies of the Allies in the Crimen, the martiality of the sakhiers from cholera and similar discusses was diminished by over 75 per cent; it consideration of which, the inventor was presented by the French and English governments with a gold medal, hearing the inscription, "Hail! M. Leroux, the great chemist and inventor, by whose knowledge our armies are preserved from cholera."

This invaluable preparation is also a remedy for billiousness, indigestion, weakness, and general derangement of the stomach. Upon being talken, it creates apportie, and prevents the heaviness attendant upon eating by persons who are dyspectic.

The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Cincinnati, appear to be very well devised, and in point of mechanical construction, are the best I have ever seen. It is to be hoped that the use of these rods may become general as an important auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable. PROFESSOR WOOD offers for sale perfect HAIR RESTORATIVE. It.! in a short time restore the Hair, which ha become gray prematurely, to its original colombring it out where it is gone, and arresti when it is falling off—cleanse the head of dandraff and itchings—remove all cataneous eruptions, and render the scale perfectly healthy, by restoring the secretive organs to their original vigor and strength, and thousapply nutriment and coloring matter to the routs. It does not Dye the hair, but hy, a short a perfect Hair Invigorator and Tosic.

To the young, who sa much admire the beautiful beks and ringlet, the feels that he will be pardoned if he offers the advice suggested by long study and extensive observation. It is to discard all cologue and stimulating oils for the hair, and keep always upon the toilet a bottle of the Rostorative for occasional use and we can safely predict, that henceforth silver locks will be upon bald heads. Let the dark eye be ever so picreing,—and the teeth be those of pearl—still, if the natural fluids be withheid from the bair, and in consequence becomes first dead and harsh, then gray, or fulls off nature will be robbed of more than half its charms; as it is a sovering remedy for those who are gray as well as those who are bald, all must see the propriety of making only such application to the hair and sculp as is calculated to preserve both in a healthy state.

to the hair and sculp as is calculated to preserve both in a healthy state.

From the editor of the Beal Estate Advertiser No. 2 School Street.

Boston, March 20, 1855.

Prof. Wond—Dear Sir—Having bosome prematurely quite gray, I was induced some 6 weeks since, to make a trial of your Hair Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the change is gradually going on, and I have great, hopes that in a short time my hair will be ast dark as formerly. I have also been nucle gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which, before was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly.

As far back as 1836 my hair commence del falling off until the 193 of my scalp became bald and smooth as gluss, and it has continued to fall off for a great many years, nowith standing I have used wany, celebrated preparations for its restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was indused to give your article. rantious for its restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was induced to give your advertisement I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment I found after a few applications that my hair became firmly set and assured by very glossy and promitted appearance and at the time. I have after a few applications that my hair becomefirmly set and (assured by very glossy and beautiful appearance; and at the time-I had used a quart buttle, my bald head was-cover ed over with a young and vigotuse growth of hair, which is now from one to two linehes-in, length, and growing very fast.

Yours, truly,
HENRY GOODRICH.
Carlyle, Ill., June 27, 1866.
I have used Prof. G. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and as I thought permanently gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resecond its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.
